REPORT

OF THE

SCHOOL BOARD OF NEWBURY,

FOR THE YEAR ENDING MARCH 1, 1892.

The School Board respectfully submit the following report:

SCHOOL NO. 1.

Spring term of five weeks, taught by Mrs. Emma F. Cheney. After teaching five weeks, the scholars and teacher being sick, it was necessary to close the school. Not having visited the school while in session, cannot report its appearance, but doubt not it was good.

Fall term of twelve weeks, taught by Miss Anne M. Hurd of Grantham. Miss Hurd was an inexperienced teacher, but being informed that she was a student of Colby Academy, we anticipated a practical term's work, nor were we disappointed. Some of the young people of this section should begin to realize that when they become men they will regret that they did not attend school more regularly.

NO 3.

As usual there was no school here until fall, when a term of ten weeks was taught by Mrs. Emma F. Cheney. Being sick with the prevailing epidemic when the school closed, was unable to be present. The teacher reports that the scholars when present were industrious and obedient.

NO. 5.

Spring term of eight weeks, commenced by Mrs. Mary E. Muzzey, but after teaching one week, on account of her health, she was obliged to obtain a substitute to finish the term. Mrs. Alice J. Muzzey, who taught the last seven weeks, exerted herself to the utmost to interest her pupils in their school work. At the examination the scholars acquitted themselves with credit.

The next term of eight weeks, taught by Mrs. Mary E. Muzzey, who taught a very successful term of school, and it was with regret that we could not induce her to continue the remaining four weeks that were intended for this term.

The board obtained the services of Miss Gertie L. Eaton, a teacher competent to teach any of our schools, to close out the remaining four weeks. Miss Eaton entered upon her work under different circumstances. There evidently was a feeling among some of the older girls that as her method of instruction was different than the preceding teacher, they could not learn, and from that some who were old enough to be young ladies were determined they would not try to accomplish anything except to ruin the school, the teacher, and their own reputation. When they found they could not accomplish the first two, they decided to leave the school. Those who remained have the consciousness of doing right and making excellent progress.

NO. 6.

The Bradford School Board have cared for the interests of this school during the past year. Miss Minnie B. Peaslee, a former pupil, has had charge during the twenty-one and one fifth weeks it was in session. From all reports we judge she taught an excellent term, giving satisfaction to all. We regret that previous engagements in the spring and sickness at the close of the last term prevented our being present at the examinations.

NO. 7.

The two terms of twenty weeks were taught by Miss Bertha M. Brockway with her usual good success. Few teachers are more anxious for their pupils' welfare and success, or labor more faithfully for the interest of the district. We would recommend that her services be retained, if possible, in the future.

NO. 8.

Spring term of eight weeks, taught by Miss Lena C. Maxfield. No doubt she intended to be faithful to the interests of the school. Had she evinced more energy and worked to stimulate her scholars with more enthusiasm, she would have given better satisfaction to the district. Commendable progress was made.

We were fortunate in procuring the services of Miss M. Blanche Allen to teach the fall term. She is too well known as a teacher to need any words of praise from us. Unfortunately sickness prevented her from completing the term, which was much regretted by scholars and parents.

NO. 9.

Your Board procured the services of Mrs. Alice J. Muzzey to teach the spring term, believing she would teach a good term of school, but on account of there being a feeling of ill-will towards her, she requested us to release her from her engagement, which we did. On account of the lateness of the season and other circumstances it was thought best not to set up any school until fall, but the scholars were given permission to attend other schools without receiving compensation.

Fall term of twelve weeks taught by Mr. Forest L. Gillingham, one who never taught before, but knowing of his scholarship we anticipated a profitable term's work, and we were not disappointed in our expectations. Mr. Gillingham has the elements that constitute a successful teacher.

NO. 10.

School for the year taught by Miss Martha A. Williamson. Being fond of young people she carried forward her work in a spirit of love, causing her pupils to reciprocate the same feeling. She devised various ways to lead them out in their mind and expand their brain power.

GENERAL REMARKS.

The schools during the past year, with a few exceptions, have been successful. More sickness has prevailed than for many years, causing the pupils' work to be broken; consequently some have not had the interest in their studies which they otherwise might. While in some instances there has not been that harmony between pupils and teacher that there should exist in order to accomplish the largest amount of good.

Wherever discord has arisen we are pleased to report that we have not found a single instance where we believe the fault has been with the teacher. Where there has not been harmony the cause has seemed to arise from a few small(?) scholars, who got the idea that they knew a LITTLE more than their teacher. When a scholar arrives to that stage the best thing for all concerned is to remain at home until they become a little wiser.

Three complete school charts have been furnished the district. We think it would be advisable to have them in the largest schools.

The world is advancing every year, and the only way we can keep our place in the rank is to use all improvements in the methods of instruction, and furnish our schools with all that will interest and instruct the young.

Among the aids to an education is a public library, where all, old and young, rich and poor, can alike get books to read and improve their minds. It is not every town that is fortunate enough to have a large library donated to them, but the state at the last session of the legislature passed a law whereby each town by a little effort on their part can begin the formation of a free library. We hope the town of Newbury will accept of the provisions made.

In closing, we desire to thank all for the hearty support given us in the discharge of our duties.
